Solar Claims

Consumer Reclaim are working with clients to reclaim the costs for Solar Panel systems that were misrepresented at the point of sale.

If you have been affected by the purchase of a Solar System that was misrepresented to you, either by exaggerated returns or poor performance, we can advise you if you are able to make a claim.

Where the company you purchased the system from is no longer trading and you took out finance pay for it, we can make a claim under Section 75 of the Consumer Credit Act to seek compensation from the Lender who provided you with the finance.

This also applies if you made the purchase, or part of the purchase, on a Credit Card.

We offer a No Win-No Fee service, and we even front the cost of a Survey on your property.

Solar Panel Mis-selling Claims

What is Section 75?

Section 75 is part of the Consumer Credit Act 1974. It states that a finance provider is jointly and severally liable for any breach of contract or misrepresentation by the retailer or trader.

This makes the credit card company you may have paid the deposit with, or the lender who provided you the finance, jointly liable with the company who sold you the Solar Panel System.

This is why we are able to pursue claims against companies that sold Solar Panels who have now gone out of business.

Section 75 however does have strict limitations.

To be eligible to make a claim under it, you must have had your system installed within the last 6 years. You must have also paid at least £100 on your credit card or taken out finance to cover the purchase.

If you are unsure as to whether or not you fall inside these limitations, don't hesitate to get in touch with us and one of our friendly claim handlers will be able to advise you further.
